Hello Mohith,

I've added access to all the requested folders for both yourself and Sneha.

To access the folders, you'll need to sign out of the cloud if you're currently signed in. To do this, click the Start menu (the four squares on the taskbar at the bottom of the screen), then click your profile icon, and select Sign out, as shown below. Once you've signed out, please sign back in to the cloud.

You should then see the folders available in File Explorer (use the search bar on the bottom to search for "File Explorer" if it's not already pinned to your taskbar) under This PC > MYCFO-ClientData (Q:), as shown below.

Hello Praveena,

It looks like there are already existing accounts for Abhishek (asharma04), Manju (mbala), and Mohith (mraj). These were most likely created as part of a previous request, or they may share the same names as existing users. If that's the case, I can adjust the usernames and create new accounts for them as needed.

I've provided the remaining usernames and passwords below for the accounts that did not previously exist and have licensed Transaction Pro for them. Please let us know if you'd like us to reset passwords for the existing accounts (if they are the only employees with those names), create new accounts with different usernames (if they share names with others), or assist with anything else.

Have you already scanned the QR code and are now receiving a six-digit OTP code on your phone in the Google Authenticator app? If not, you'll need to scan the QR code first using the Google Authenticator app to add it and then you can sign into the Numera cloud app using the six-digit OTP code.

Or is it already added in Google Authenticator, but when you try to sign in, it is not accepting the current six-digit OTP code? If this is the case, I can reset it so you can scan a new QR code to add it again.

Hello Susmitha,

When QuickBooks freezes, which can occasionally happen, the best options are to log out of the cloud and log back in, as mentioned previously, or to close QuickBooks through Task Manager. These are the quickest ways to restart the application on your own without needing assistance from support to do so.

The quicker of the two options is to close QuickBooks through Task Manager. To do this, right-click the Start menu and select Task Manager. Then, locate QuickBooks in the list, right-click it, and select End Task to force close the program, as shown in the screenshots below. After that, you should be able to reopen QuickBooks as normal.

Another method is to log out of the cloud app and then log back in if, for any reason, Task Manager doesn't close the application. To fully log out, right-click the Start menu, hover over Shut down or sign out, and choose Sign out. From there, open the cloud app, right-click your connection name (numera.vyon.cloud), and select Log out, as shown in the screenshots below. You can then sign back in, and all applications should be closed, allowing you to reopen QuickBooks again.

Update
Tue 10-14-25 04:51 AM
Hello Prashant,

This doesn't appear to be an issue with the software or server malfunctioning, but rather something that can happen with the file being imported. From what I could find in Transaction Pro's support documentation, it appears that:

"If the import file does not have a header row, the titles Field1, Field2, etc., will be shown in the drop-down list. Field1 represents the first column in the import file (from the left), Field2 the second column, and so on."

You may simply be missing a header for those columns in your import file, which could be why you're not seeing the expected options and are instead being prompted to choose Field1, Field2, and so on. The article linked below covers this topic, along with additional information and steps related to creating maps, QuickBooks fields, custom fields, and more. I recommend reviewing it in case there's relevant information that can help resolve this.

Reference:

<https://tprosupport.rightworks.com/kb/article/723-create-a-map-for-rightworks-transaction-pro-importer-desktop/>

If this doesn't help, it may be best to reach out to the Transaction Pro support team using the link below for further assistance, as they'll be more familiar with issues related to using the software and import files. If they do determine that this is caused by something related to the software installation, please let us know what they recommend. I'll keep the ticket open for now so we can assist with any information their support team provides.

Hello,

I've added access to the requested folders.

To access the new folders, you'll need to sign out of the cloud if you're currently signed in. To do this, click the Start menu (the four squares on the taskbar at the bottom of the screen), then click your profile icon, and select Sign out. Once you've signed out, please sign back in to the cloud and verify that the folders are available.

Hello,

We just spoke with Manish and I believe he got Jithin on the call as well. I had Jithin login to the cloud to test the connection and as of right now he said it was not running slow so we were not able to test anything. May we please get specific time ranges and days that it is running slow so we can try to find a pattern on what is causing the slowness to better assist.

Dubai does seem to be on the list of countries affected by this incident. The server resources and performance are normal on our end, and we are able to connect and use them without any issues. Hello Gopika,

May I know where you are located? We are currently seeing performance issues for some users outside the United States due to damaged subsea cables in the Red Sea. A significant amount of internet traffic is being rerouted, which may be causing the slowness you're experiencing.

Completed the following tasks remotely:

- Manish called me and I got connected to his computer remotely via Teamviewer
- He got on the phone with the user that was having slowness issues on Teams and had her share her screen
- We troubleshooted the slowness issues
- I took note of the users name and the server they were connected to (gkurup nrd05-e)
- Verified they were not having issues when not many users were on the server and they were having more issues when the server had more users on it, during their day time
- Let Manish know we would look into and be sure to run maintenance and allocate resources to the server as needed
